Creative Quarter Approach:
Transport Improvements Derby Road

Creative Quarter

We are pleased to let you know that that works to improve Derby Road between Maid Marian Way and Canning Circus are now due to start.

These improvements are part of a programme of works to support economic growth in the Creative Quarter. The Creative Quarter programme is funded by Nottingham City Council and the European Regional Development Fund (ERDF).

The pavements will be widened and repaved for the entire length. There will be new trees, new street lighting and an additional pedestrian crossing. Pay and display parking will remain on both sides of the street

The improvements will be carried out in several phases over the coming months up to November 2015.

The first phase of works will start on Monday 2nd March (see plan overleaf) beginning at North Circus Street working towards Upper College Street on the south side of the street.

In order to carry out this first phase of works, which will last for approximately 11 weeks, some temporary arrangements will be needed, including:

- Traffic reduced to two lanes
- Temporary bus stops will be in place within the works area
- A road closure on Upper College Street at its junction with Derby Road will be required at the beginning of May. There will be a signed diversion route via the Ropewalk. Some parking will be suspended for a short time at the junction during these works

Access to local businesses, loading and off street parking will be maintained throughout the works.

The next phase of works will be from Upper College Street towards Canning Circus and we will let you know further details nearer the time.
