Western Cycle Corridor construction
(City Road to Broadgate via University Boulevard)

The City Council's Cycle City Ambition route construction programme, funded by the City Council and a £6.1m investment by the D2N2 local Enterprise Partnership, is proceeding well.

The Western Corridor is the first of our new Cycle Ambition cycle routes to be built and will provide cyclists with a fast and direct route that will run from the City Centre to Beeston via Castle Boulevard, the Abbey Bridge and University Boulevard.

This next phase of these works will run along the City Road, the northern shared path and along University Boulevard.

The improvements will include:

- Resurfacing the shared path along the north side of University Boulevard to create a better surface for cyclists and pedestrians
- Changing the priority for traffic at the Lace Street and Greenfield Street junctions with City Road to prioritise cycle flow
- Small amendments to the parking bays at the City Road junction with Greenfield Street (as consulted upon)
- Amendments to the Beeston Road junction with Greenfield Street to connect the on and off street cycle links safely
- Widening of the shared path and removal of the existing uneven footway along Beeston Road, between Greenfield Street and University Boulevard

The works will begin at the Nottingham Croquet Club on University Boulevard. They will then move east and west along University Boulevard before moving to City Road and the junction of Beeston Road with Greenfield Street. (Please see plan overleaf)

Works are due to begin on Monday 30th August and will be complete in late October.

There will be some minor disruption that may affect pedestrians and cyclists using the existing shared path along University Boulevard and traffic using this road as well as the Greenfield Street junction with Beeston Road.

Alternative pedestrian, cyclist and traffic routes will be provided throughout the work.

The City Council apologises for any inconvenience that these works may cause you and thank you for your support and patience.
