Assessment against Local Criteria

1. Asset type: a later example of a non-conformist chapel
2. Group value: with other chapels in Basford, Queensberry Street Baptist church evidences the development and strength of non-conformist religions in Nottingham and its suburbs
3. Group value: with the mission school/hall next door (HA547)
4. High Aestheic value and built from Bulwell Sandstone

Reason for Designation

An example of a late Baptist church. With other churches in the area, Queensberry Street Baptist church evidences the popularity of non-conformist religions in Nottingham at this time but also the denominational divisions. The church has high aestetic value with its ecclectic gothic style in Bulwell Stone.

Queensberry Baptist Church

Local Heritage Asset Register

Basford HA547

Additional Description:

One of the latest non-conformist chapels to be built in Basford. Due to the adjacent mission school/hall (HA546) being an earlier building, and the original plans describing this building as the 'new Baptist chapel' it seems likely that the current building replaces an earlier church. The building, along with numerous other chapels in Basford, evidences the population of non-conformist religious in the nineteenth and early twentieth century, as well as the denominational divisions.
